D. O. Holds Christmas Sale

More than 1,000 shoppers—Detroit Office employees, their families and friends—shopped in the garage of the administration building on November 17 at the Detroit Office's "family-style Christmas sale."

There were thousands of items for sale at discount prices. The first-quality merchandise was from the sample rooms of Detroit Office buyers.

Seventy-five Detroit Office employees manned cash registers and wrapped purchases in dozens of departmental "shops" selling toys, hosiery, jewelry, ready-to-wear, lingerie, hardware, kitchenware, novelties, pet supplies, glassware, plastic items, dinnerware, housewares, pictures, men's and boys' furnishings, needlework, handkerchiefs, books, import items, floor coverings and furniture. Several Detroit Office-sponsored Junior Achievement companies also set up booths and sold their products.

A package check room was set up to accommodate customers.

Pre-sale advertising from the personnel department declared: "No fancy fixtures, no frills, just plain family-style bargains." When the doors opened at 8:30 a.m., hundreds of shoppers were already waiting in black-long lines.
